ADEQUATE TERMINALS

The Ohio river improvement bill is before Congress. It is long and full of details, but the committee has ascertained what the people along the Ohio are willing to contribute to the cost of providing adequate terminals as part of the relieving bill.

This is a new phase of a situation, but one which is not out of the line with the modern trend of events. An investigation has revealed the fact that not a single community along the Ohio river has made any adequate permanent terminals for the benefit of river traffic. The various communities are not so stupid. The government has been so long in making improvements on the Ohio that it would not have paid any community to have made an improvement of this character in the past. During the fall, winter and spring seasons there have been great times when boats could run for months at a time, but when the summer season would set in the river would become so low that in many places below Pittsburgh it could be sailed with but little difficulty.

This condition of affairs naturally shut off navigation, and the splendid trades which steamboats had managed to build up during the previous months were wrecked. However, the government has adopted different methods with regard to the improvement of the Ohio, and work on locks and dams is progressing at a splendid pace.

From the attitude taken by the committee the different communities are to be asked to help along the good work by building permanent docking facilities, by means of which freight shipments can be handled in an economical manner. Evidently the government has finally awakened to the importance of water transportation, and from the inquiries made by the committee, it wants the people to wake up also, that inland navigation may be made of such a character as to be available practically all of the year.

It has been charged in the past that railroad interests were responsible for the declining of water transportation, many terminals along water fronts in various river towns being bought up by railroad companies and turned into storage yards, thus cutting the community off from any benefit that water transportation might bring.

In the Monongahela valley there is a town with a permanent dock for the handling of freight shipped by water, and it may be they will be called upon by the government to give expression to their attitude on this important feature.

There are also towns which are absolutely cut off from river commerce, and it is the duty of the government to see that they are not so. The fact is, the government is now taking a long and hard look at the Ohio river, and it is not out of the line to expect that it will make some improvements in the future.

ON THE FRONT LINE

The Ohio river is a great highway, and it is the duty of the government to see that it is kept open. The fact is, the government is now taking a long and hard look at the Ohio river, and it is not out of the line to expect that it will make some improvements in the future.

OUR BREAD SUPPLY

There is no disposition to criticize, but the recent order of the Food Administrator of the State, which is emphasized by the County Official, gives color to the belief that home-made bread in many families will be discontinued for some time, or at least until there is a modification of the present order, which puts the people of the state on a 50-50 flour basis.

County Food Administrator Lockhart, of Washington, says the order will mean a short stoppage of the sale of flour, and that is just what going to happen right here in Charle-roi. We haven't the substitutes, they cannot be had in any quantities to speak of, and consequently, wholesalers and retailers cannot be permitted to sell flour because of the lack of them. Whole-sale dealers in Charle-roi have no substitutes, and while grocers may have some, they are not in the line of the flour.

Mr. Lockhart says that if bread-bakers are to have flour, they must buy it in bulk, and that is just what the government is now doing. The fact is, the government is now taking a long and hard look at the Ohio river, and it is not out of the line to expect that it will make some improvements in the future.

WAIT ON OLD SOL

Rivermen are greatly disappointed that the Monongahela is again practically embargoed. The cold weather which has prevailed the past two days has so far nullified their work of last week as to again close the river to navigation. It has been many a year since rivermen saw like conditions exist in the valley, and the river remained closed for such a long period. In fact to many of the men who follow the river for a livelihood the experience of the past six weeks have been unusual. They never before saw the river tied up so long and so tightly as it is at the present time. It is likely that we will have to wait the action of nature and allow the rays of Old Sol to do effectively what steam power failed to accomplish in its endeavor to clear the river of the embargo which has lasted for so long.

Could Live on Bananas Alone. The exotic but always accessible banana is essentially sanitary—no germs can touch it. Like the apple, it can be served raw or cooked to please the most capricious palate. Like the onion, it provides the highly necessary mineral salts. And, like meat and milk, it has a high fuel value—slightly less than the one, slightly more than the other. Man cannot live by bread alone, but he could by bananas alone—if he had to.

MASTER REMEDY

TANLAC IS HERE

Famous Medicine Created Sensation in Cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Indeed, the famous Master Medicine is creating such a sensation in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Scranton, Reading, Harrisburg and other cities of the state, is now being introduced for the first time here. Tanlac is made of ingredients of a scientific origin by a noted German chemist even as mysteriously as famous mineral waters are formed. The preparation seems to have no equal as a tonic and general system builder. It strikes straight at the root of stomach, liver, kidney and other ailments, and puts those who have been suffering from years of illness of their vital organs in the very pink of condition. Tanlac seems to appeal to the last resort of people everywhere. It is a natural, thousands have testified to its marvellous powers over the most common complaints of today. It seems to be distinctly adapted to the needs of the stomach, gently perfects the proper assimilation of food, and gives strength and health to the entire system.

Plant Life Changes.

The life of plant varieties grown from seed, in their pure and original forms, is very short, notes a botanist. They soon pass in slightly different forms and the process is constantly taking place. So that in a few years a named variety is quite unlike the original, even though a direct descendant. Everything grown from one original seed is soon broken up into many divergent forms, and in some cases this takes in the first generation.

RED BLOODED

MEN FIGHTERS

THEY RULE THE WORLD

Red blooded men are born leaders in every walk of life and fight intelligently with both brain and muscles. They are always live, alert, smiling and full of vigor, alert on their toes and ready for anything that comes their way. Work is a pleasure and they land on top every time.

You will not find a strong successful man or woman trying to plug along with poor health or weak nerves. They know better, they are alive and see to it that their blood is full of good fresh iron and phosphates—the nerve food.

A leading doctor says, "Show me a strong, healthy successful man or woman and you can bank on it every time, their bodies are just loaded with Iron and Phosphates." Another prominent physician says, "There is a need of anyone going through life sickly, miserable, played out, feeble and nervous when Phosphated Iron will always put energy and vigor in the body, mind and nerves." This same doctor also said, "With the system loaded with Phosphated Iron you can fight life's battle at any stage of the game and be a winner at every turn."

Mr. Run Down man or woman in any stage of life, if you feel all in, your nerves are all shot, and life seems like one continual drag and drudgery from day to day, get next to yourself, wake up, take a brace. Lay in a supply of Phosphated Iron and take a new lease on life. You will once again feel like a live one and face the world with a smile that wins. Are you game?

To insure physicians and their patients receiving the genuine Phosphated Iron, it has been put up in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to give you tablets or pills. Insist on capsules. W. F. Hennings and leading druggists everywhere.

To the Patrons of the Railroads: Much of the freight congestion in this district is due to failure of some consignees to take their freight away from freight stations and team tracks promptly.

The operating committee, acting under the authority of the Director General of Railroads, hereby calls upon shippers and consignees to load, unload and remove their freight with the greatest possible dispatch to the end that the roads may better perform all their functions of transportation.

Chairman.

HAPPIEST PERIOD OF LIFE

Generation That Really Knew What Gladness is Has Not Been Born, Asserts Church Paper.

Some sage has arisen to remark that human life up to about fifty years ago was not worth living—that only the inventions and luxuries of the last half century have made life bearable.

Unfortunately, there is no way accurately to gauge the degree of happiness of any period or even to define exactly what happiness is, says the Christian Herald.

All we can know for certain is that the happiness of our own times is the best that is attainable to us, and lucky is he who gets his share of it.

Happiness, like health, is known to us chiefly through its opposite. Health is known through disease and pain, and happiness through disappointment and misery.

The masses of mankind, until this century almost dumb, now make heard their sufferings and dissatisfaction. The woes of centuries are finding utterance in the free speech of our day. The wall may cause the unthinking to suppose that the sun of human happiness is suddenly obscured. But, to the contrary, the remedies following the better understanding of wrong conditions steadily improve the conditions under which happiness may become more general. The more we hear of wrongs, the fewer wrongs we have.

Philosophers may wrangle about it until doomsday, and no doubt they will; but the age which knows the least earthly misery and woe is the one that has been longest dead, and the generation that really knows what happiness is and can realize its full possession is a long time yet unborn.

NEITHER PENCIL NOR PEN

Writing Implement, Made of Mixture of Wax and Ground Pumice Stone, Recent Invention.

A writing implement composed of a mixture of wax and finely ground pumice stone containing particles of ink has been invented by William O. Gear of Akron, O., to take the place of ordinary and fountain pens, pencils, crayons and all other writing implements, say the Popular Science Monthly. As the body of the new writing device is composed of a mixture of wax and pumice stone, which is easily worn away when rubbed against a paper surface, the inventor claims that the cells of ink intermixed with the wax and pumice stone will also be liberated, giving a uniform supply of ink.

The device is made by mixing the wax, pumice stone and ink together. When it is heated to the proper temperature it is suddenly immersed in cold water. This chills and solidifies the wax mixture, producing a body having a cellular structure, each cell being filled with ink.

Cactus Candy.

Louisiana sugar cane planters have evolved a plan for manufacturing candy from the spineless cactus. In the process the peel of the plant is removed, dipped into hot molasses and coated with granulated or powdered sugar. The result is a confection of rich and delicious flavor.

So successful have been the experiments with the new sweet that cane planters are now growing cactus, which formerly was utilized, when used at all, for cattle fodder. Planters can in this way furnish plenty of raw material for the new product.

Another important result in the making of what some enterprising advertiser may call "kaktus-kandy," says an exchange, is that sugar mills which have heretofore been idle for nine months in the year can now use part of their equipment in the candy manufacturing industry.

Light and Thought.

Not all thought is traveling. The supposition that when one thinks of the moon one's thought travels to the moon is a mistake, for the thought is formed in the mind and remains there. The time taken to "think of anything," declares a writer, "occupies some small fraction of a second. Light 'travels' at the rate of about 166,000 miles a second, and if it is thought which travels in what is called telepathy it would have to travel at the same speed because ether, the medium which transmits light, would also transmit the brain vibrations that accompany thought. The telepathic theory of 'thought which travels' has been objected to on the ground that after traveling considerable distances, such as are sometimes claimed for telepathic communication, the brain vibrations would be so diffused and weakened as to make no impression.

Ancient Marine Homes.

The most interesting of the earlier habitations of man are the curious lake dwellings of the age of bronze. These were usually built on piles sunk into the bottom of lakes, some distance from the shore. Large trees were felled, the trunks of which were sharpened on one end and driven into the mud by mallets used in the hands of the builders, who worked from a raft.

America's Natural Bridges.

There are probably more natural bridges in America than in any other country. Rainbow, the largest in existence, is 300 feet high. Its span is six times as great as that of the natural bridge of Virginia. Utah has three natural bridges that are higher and of greater span than any other natural bridges in the world.

FIRST A STROKE THEN 25 YEARS OF NERVOUS ILLS

H. M. Riddle Tells How Nervous Worth Banished His Various Sufferings

Mr. Riddle is a well known resident of Washington, Pa. Note how he expressed his appreciation recently to his Washington druggist:

"Nerv-Worth has been a blessing to me. For 25 years I was troubled with a nervous condition following a stroke of paralysis. I lost weight and strength. My stomach was bad and I would fill up with gas after eating. I tried various remedies and doctors. Got some relief but it was not satisfactory. Nerv-Worth was recommended to me by another of its users and thought I would give it a trial. IT HELPED ME WONDERFULLY. The nervousness is about all gone, have no trouble with my stomach and gas, am gaining in weight and strength right along. I can recommend Nerv-Worth to anyone in same condition I was in and feel that it will help them."

"H. M. RIDDLE."

249 West Spruce St., Washington. Henning's Drug Store and Piper's Pharmacy sells Nerv-Worth. Your dollar back if this famous family tonic does not benefit you.

PENNSYLVANIA MAN WOULD RATHER FIGHT THAN WORK

"I suffered 8 1/2 years with stomach trouble and could not eat and just hated for anyone to say work to me. I would rather fight. Since taking a course of May's Wonderful Remedy I actually want to work, and talk about eat. I am the last one to leave the table now." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays that inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, such as appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

Hung It on a Dead Man.

The "constable gazed long and thoughtfully at the hole in Mrs. Parkington's parlor window. Then he procured a notebook.

"You heard the crash at four o'clock?"

"Four o'clock," echoed the lady.

"You ran to the door, but seed nobody?"

"Nobody."

After this question Sherlock could think of no more, so he shut up his book with a snap and walked off dreaming of promotion.

A few minutes later he was back with a full-face smile that was eloquent of triumph.

"Jobs like this 'ere don't take a smart chap long," he remarked. "You're sure it happened at four o'clock, ma'am?"

"Yes; have you caught the culprits?"

"Well, not yet, ma'am," he answered, "but I'm narrowin' it down, all right. It wasn't Bill 'Iggyus, cos' 'e was killed by a motor car at 'art past three."

Fighting in the Air.

Strikingly graphic is the account of a fight in the air, told in a Newfoundland's letter home.

"Soon after we crossed the lines, which we did at 15,000 (nearly three miles high), I began to have difficulty in keeping up with the formation. As a result Archie picked me out and he certainly made it hot. However, I kept along a bit behind the rest, and was just dropping my bombs over the objective when seven Huas dived down on us. In the scrap that followed I lost all trace of the rest of the formation, so I knew my only chance lay in flying west as fast as I could. Just as I was getting well under way, a Hun came at us. It was exciting. We twisted and turned, dived and climbed, each trying to get the other. Finally he left us."

Height of Women's Shoes.

The British war office forbids from February 1, except under permit from director of raw material, the purchase, sale, or offers to purchase or sell any boots for women with uppers exceeding seven inches in height if of leather or eight inches in height if of any other material. Manufacturers are now forbidden to cut material or uppers exceeding dimensions named.

Courtesy and Appreciation.

To make courtesy popular it must be shown that it pays, pays in dollars and cents as well as in happiness, an exchange says. Appreciation makes for greater effort and creates one of the most valuable assets and builds up a spirit of team work. Much good always results when people think more about their obligations and less about rights. There are many discouraged hearts everywhere that would be helped wonderfully by a word of appreciation.

This Is Our Winter of Test

SEVERE food is a test problem for each community. Prices and rationing rules for every one may be formulated. It is a duty for each one to eat only as much as is necessary to maintain the human body healthy and strong.

This winter of test is the period when it is to be tested here in America whether our people are capable of voluntary individual sacrifice to save the world. That is the purpose of the organization of the United States Food Administration—by voluntarily effort to provide the food that the world needs.

U. S. FOOD ADMINISTRATION

REGISTRATION OF ALIENS CONTINUING

The registration of alien enemies continues today at local police headquarters, and Chief Albright expects to have all such residents of Charleroi listed by the end of this week. According to a letter received from the United States Marshal's office in Pittsburgh, all details of the work are to be kept secret, and consequently local police cannot give out any information relating what such registration papers contain. No trouble has been experienced in having these residents register under the law for the registration of aliens, as practically all of them have expressed regret in not taking out their citizen papers years ago.

MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT FOR FRENCH CHURCH

A musical entertainment for the benefit of the French church will be given in the high school auditorium, Tuesday evening, February 8, at 8 o'clock. The purpose of the concert is to help the church, which is very much in need on account of repairs done and in view of necessary improvements. A very generous response is being made by the people in the way of purchasing tickets and a good attendance is expected. Over 300 tickets have been sold already. The program will be in charge of Prof. Daniels and Miss Ruby Charles, and splendid talent has been engaged for the event. Out of the proceeds $25 will be given to the Red Cross.
